The new Commandant of the Defense Language Institute's Foreign Language Center (DLI/FLC) in Monterey, California, Colonel Monte R. Bullard, USA, met with the Executive Secretary on 14 August [redacted] Building. Colonel Bullard, in preparation for assuming his duties as Commandant on 31 August, had been briefed by the language schools at CIA, NSA, and the Foreign Service Institute. The Executive Secretary briefed Colonel Bullard on the origins and functions of the Foreign Language Committee and its relationship to the Department of Defense (DoD) and the DLI/FLC. Colonel Bullard, who is familiar with DoD Humint Collection activities, said that, without in any way detracting from the services which the DLI/FLC is providing for training [redacted] he wished to make certain that the language training needs of DoD HUMINT collectors are also adequately met. He places great importance on maintaining close cooperation with the Foreign Language Committee and has instructed his representative in Washington, LTC Kenneth Keating, to provide whatever assistance he can to the Committee.
